I know she bugged me about it yesterday too. I explained to her that I had left three messages with three different ERT resources on Wednesday to refine The questions. I realize some of my previous questions betrayed my ignorance of health physics. And on one of them re K 40, yesterday Rob said contradictory arguments with himself several times in five minutes. But maybe I need to give up on appearing smart at some point ...

I can probably wait. It's been some time since I said I would send him the questions, so probably another work day will not matter. Maybe I will send him Hirsch's questions and tell him the others will be on the way.

This is just another thing Angeles was riding me on. You know how that can get.

I wanted to talk more with Lyndsey, but she's on ann lv in Pennsylvania, but I've got a call scheduled with her next Mon. But if you need to get it out today, I'll do my best.

Yes. I would love to catch up. The ride back is best. I need to leave right after the Pearl Harbor meeting. On Monday, I need to meet with our new RPMs after lunch. They start in Monday.

I still need to send questions to Lansdale.
